Huron mothers group seeks halt of sex ed

By HENRY CANTIN

A bill of complaint involving the teaching of sex education in Huron Township Schools has been filed in Wayne County Circuit Court against the Huron School District's Board of Education.

The civil court proceedings, a class action, was served on the school board last week. It was initiated by a group of mothers who are acting on their own behalf and others similarly situated.

The court litigation has been assigned to Circuit Judge Edward S. Piggins.

An order to show why a restraining order prohibiting the school board members and the school superintendent from offering any course in human development and sex education should not be issued during the pendency of the court suit will be heard at 2 p.m. Jan. 8.

Named as defendants in the suit are the Huron School District, School Board President Carl Rush, board members Leo Kyko, Mrs. Jean E. Richert and Charles Larabell and Superintendent Bryon K. Antcliff.

Board members who were not named as defendants are Mrs. Mildred Bennett, Mrs. Erma Palmiter and Harry Hartsuff. The three are the latest additions to the school board. They were elected last June.

Mrs. Doris Hartsuff, Mrs. Pat Pearson, Mrs. Olga McDavid and Mrs. Pat Wiseley are the plaintiffs. Larry S. Davidow, a Detroit attorney who initiated the court action, is also seeking a permanent restraining order against the defendants and a court judgment holding the provisions of Act No. 44 of the Public Acts of 1968 as unconstitutional.

This act was adopted by the state legislative in November, 1968. It relates to sex education in school districts.

Immediately upon being served with the suit, the school board appointed its school attorneys—the firm of Thrum & Thrum of Lansing—to defend the district. Board of Education and staff members involved in the suit.

In commenting on the court suit, Rush said: "It is a shame that the citizens of Huron Township are obligated to pay legal fees to defend the school district in this type of civil suit."

He added that the school district is required under state law to teach sex education.

As late as last week, the State Board of Education approved a four-part bibliography for distribution to Michigan schools listing sex education materials for use in elementary through high school grades.

Guidelines for sex education, approved earlier by the board, accompanied the list of approved resource materials.

Davidow charges in his suit "that the defendants have instituted and are following a program ostensibly to conform to the provisions of Act 44, but that the defendants have by their actions subverted the intent and purpose of said law, in that they have sought to introduce and are introducing various aspects of the so-called 'sex education' into the curriculum of classes in home economics, health and physical education, and science, without proper guidelines as to subject matter and content, method of instruction or qualification of instructors."

The suit charges that "Superintendent Antcliff had, at diverse and frequent times, stated that no sex education would be attempted in the schools of the school district until legal and appropriate guidelines had been established, notwithstanding which, he has proceeded to set up various curriculums, including classes in 'planned parenthood' where instruction is given on reproduction process and birth control."

And further, "that the said program contemplates the teaching of sex to students in the defendant public schools, starting from the early grades."

WINS FLYING CROSS — Capt. Douglas C. Roach, formerly of Romulus, stands beside his jet fighter. Capt. Roach recently was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for service in Southeast Asia.

Ex-Romulus resident wins Flying Cross

Capt. Douglas C. Roach, a former resident of Romulus, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross by the U.S. Air Force for extraordinary achievement in Southeast Asia.

Roach, whose parents now live in San Clemente, Calif., received the citation which detailed his participation as an aircraft commander in an April strike mission against hostile trucks and supplies on one of the most heavily defended routes in Southeast Asia.

The citation reads: "The professional competence, aerial skill and devotion to duty displayed by Captain Roach reflect great credit upon himself and the United States Air Force."

Roach was involved in a dusk strike mission under difficult environmental conditions — thunderstorms, darkness, and intense anti-aircraft fire. Despite the conditions, Roach repeatedly made accurate hits, destroying trucks and supplies destined for use against American forces.

A former Civil Air Patrol cadet, Roach entered the Air Force upon graduation from the University of Michigan in 1963. He was stationed in Germany for three years and

Police still seek man who terrorized family

One of the three men wanted in connection with the alleged terrorizing of five members of a Huron Township family on morning of Dec. 16 is still sought by Flat Rock State Police Post and Huron Township Police Department.

He has been identified as Isaiah V. Williams, 24, of 48000 Wear Rd. Belleville. Two men arrested in the case are William R. Mack, 27, of 25047 6 Martinsville Rd., and Willie F. McCain, 23, who listed his address as 8856

MacArthur Rd. Ypsilanti. The two men arrested are being held under $10,000 bond each on robbery armed charged pending further court proceedings.

The trio are charged with terrorizing the family of Clarence Otter, 54, of 25330 Otter Rd. New Boston. They allegedly attempted robbery. He is recovering from the leg wound.

Two member of the family who were upstairs at the large farmhouse occupied by the family were missed by the thugs. They called the Huron Township Police Department from an upstairs telephone extension.

A police car from the Huron police force responded within minutes and arrested Mack sitting in a suspected getaway car a short distance from the home. An earlier report stating that a State Police car arrived first and arrested Mack is incorrect.

Public hearing slated

The Michigan Boundary Commission will conduct a public hearing on the proposed incorporation of a portion of Huron Township into a new home rule city of Huron Woods on Jan. 21. Executive Secretary of the commission James S. Hyde, announced.

The hearing will be at 7:30 p.m. at the township hall 37290 Huron River Dr.

The public hearing is being held to comply with provisions of the Boundary Commission Act, which specifies that the commission must hold a public hearing on incorporation petitions not less than 60 nor more than 180 days from the date of filing the petitions.

This hearing will give residents of Huron Township an opportunity to contribute information and testimony on the proposed incorporation.

The boundary commission will not reach any conclusions or make any determinations until after the Jan. 21 public hearing.

The commission has several options. It can deny the petition, or it can submit or approve them with boundary adjustments.

Tax bills to be paid

The payment of 1970 tax bills by Romulus property owners may be made at all Romulus branch banks. City Treasurer Albert Glinski, announced.

The city treasurer's office will close at noon, Thursday, Dec. 31 and resume operations on Monday.

Belleville lady wins drawing

For having her name selected in the seventh weekly "Bazaar of Values" drawing, Mrs. Russell Wilson, 15540 Elwell, Belleville, will be receiving $20 from the Belleville Enterprise and Romulus Roman.

Mrs. Wilson, who submitted an entry from Bud's TV, was chosen this week in the contest's next-to-last random drawing.

Next week's winner will receive $100 as the eight-week "Bazaar of Values" comes to a close.

To enter, just write your name, address and phone number on any sales slip, cash register tape, charge slip receipt or other business form from any business displaying the "Bazaar of Values" posters or advertising in the "bazaar" section of this newspaper or on just a piece of paper.

Bring or mail entries to the office of the Belleville Enterprise and Romulus Roman at 330 Main St., Belleville.

Offices closed

Romulus city offices and various governmental bureaus will be closed at noon Thursday for the observance of New Year's Day. City Clerk Leonard J. Folmar announced.

The city offices and bureaus will resume normal hours on Monday.

Duo arrested for kidnaping raping woman

Two men accused of allegedly kidnapping and raping a married 23-year-old Romulus woman were arraigned Monday before District Court Judge James B. Stone.

The two defendants pleaded not guilty to the charge of kidnapping and were ordered held under $5,000 bond each pending an examination into the charges to be held within 10 days.

In custody are Thomas R. Clayton, 19, of 26040 Shriner, New Boston; and Richard A. Celski, 18, of 6329 Central, Romulus.

Police Sgt. Robert Taylor, in charge of the case, reported the men were first arrested Dec. 6 the date of the alleged offense, and released pending further investigation. They were re-arrested Sunday night.

Police Chief Jacob J. Koch reported that the two men, accompanied by another young couple, allegedly stopped a car being driven south on Wayne Rd. north of Ecorse Rd. by the victim at 1:15 a.m. Dec. 6.

Township convention scheduled

The 18th annual convention of the Michigan Townships Association (MTA) will be held in Grand Rapids, Jan. 13 to 15.

The theme of this year's convention is "Strength Through Education". Gathering for the convention will be many township supervisors, clerks, treasurers, trustees and attorneys from throughout the state.

Area township officials from Van Buren, Huron and Sumpter Townships are scheduled to attend the three-day convention which will deal with various matters ranging from taxation procedures to election laws, zoning and planning.

To oversee Metro expansion

Road commission gets chairman for two years

A prominent Detroit attorney will serve as chairman of the board of Wayne County Road Commissioners for the next two years beginning Jan. 1.

Michael Berry, senior partner in the firm Berry, Hopson, Francis, and Mack, and his co-commissioners, Philip J. Neudeck and Freddie G. Burton, also attorneys, will set policy regarding multi-million dollar programs in the fields of roads, parks, sewer and water supply and Metropolitan Airport.

Berry, elected a road commissioner in March, 1967, said that much of the Board's time will be devoted to a three-phase plan for the further development of Detroit

Metropolitan Wayne County Airport.

Reconstruction of the airport's main instrument runway, under the first grant of the recent Federal Airport Development Aid Program, has been completed. The first phase of the $250 million program was assured in April with the sale of $69 million in airport revenue bonds.

"This program will include land acquisition, a new runway, terminal expansion, roads and parking, baggage facilities and several other improvements," Berry said.

"Transportation and economic expansion must be viewed as a totality," said Berry. "They all blend in

Police suit postponed

A court suit involving enforcement of a contract for law enforcement services in the City of Romulus by the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol has been postponed until Feb. 5 by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Charles S. Farmer.

An order to show cause why a temporary restraining order should not be issued, prohibiting the city administration and the Wayne County Sheriff from carrying out terms of the contract, was scheduled to be heard at 2 p.m. last Wednesday, Dec. 2.

By agreement of attorneys John E. Young and Peter

O'Rourke representing the city and Edward P. Joseph of Flint, representing the Fraternal Order of Police and the Romulus Police Officers Association which filed the suit, the court did not issue a restraining order.

A hearing on the merits of the suit and a motion for a summary judgment of dismissal filed by the city will be heard on Feb. 5.

The association is expected to file an amendment bill of complaint, was stated.

The suit was filed to block enforcement of the pact between the city and the sheriff's department under which the sheriff's department will supply 24-hour complete police service to Romulus.

The contract signed between the sheriff and the City of Romulus is for five years. The first year's cost is reported to be $348,000.

The present 10-man Romulus police force would be transferred to the sheriff's department with all their rights and seniority protected.

The law enforcement contract awaits the approval of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners which controls the operations of the Wayne County Sheriff Department.

The Ways and Means Committee of the Board of Commissioners has referred the proposed contract to three county agencies for analysis and recommendations. They are the Board of Auditors, the Civil Service Commission and the Wayne County Prosecutor's office.

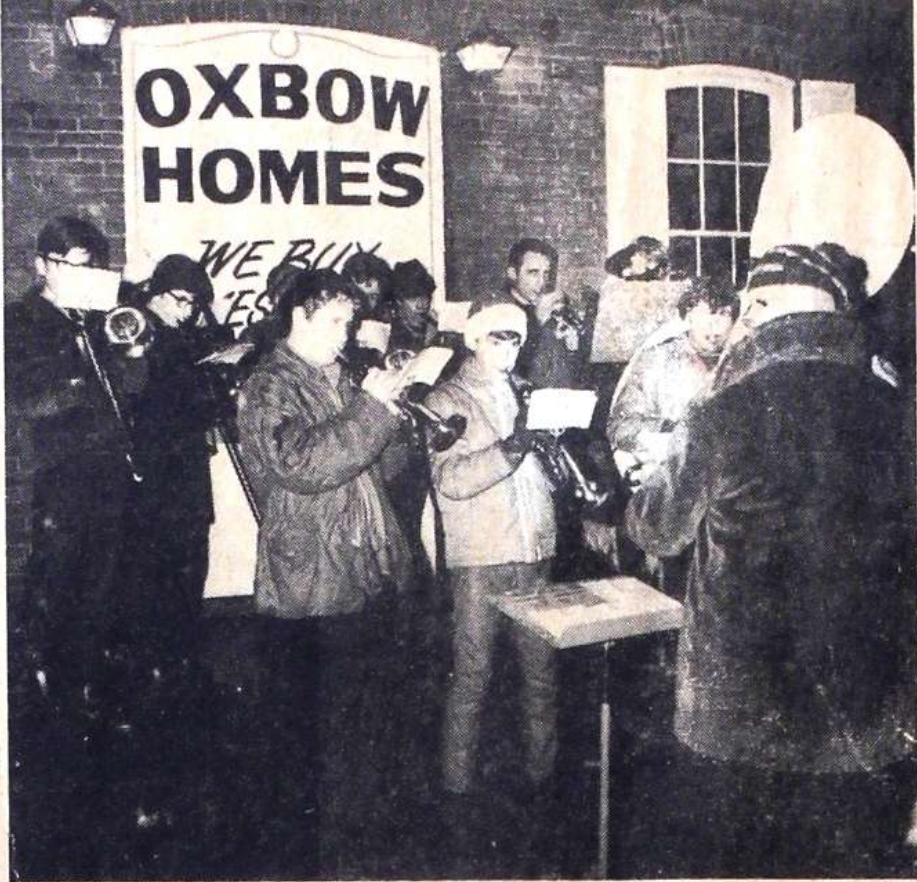

together and we have insured further development in the out-county area with the sale of $20 million in highway fund bonds and several million dollars in sewer bonds," he added.

The road bond issue will finance 20 projects in and around Detroit. One will be a grade separation for East Grand Boulevard between Russell and St. Aubin Sts. over the Grand Trunk Railroad tracks.

Berry, who lives at 232 N. Vernon, Dearborn, said the County will share in the State's Recreation Bond issue proceeds and that this will help in the acquisition and development of much needed "play space."

A MUSICAL SALUTE - North Junior High School musicians took part in a musical salute to Christmas this year. The event was held in front of the old Van Buren township hall. Richard Coffelt, (back to camera) directed the musicians in several Christmas selections.

Mobile home owners offer tips on buying

The Michigan Mobile Home Owners Association (MMHOA) has established an information service for persons desiring help in the purchase of a mobile home or selection of a park in which to reside.

George Ferguson, head of the MMHOA, announced an automatic telephone answering device has been in service for several weeks. By dialing (313) 461-1808 a person can leave his phone number and name on a recording and he will be contacted later by an association spokesman.

He reported that the association has information about many area parks and trailer dealers on file. Tips on trailer buying are also available.

Industrial coordinator qualifications doubted

To the editor:
I would like to challenge the credentials of the industrial coordinator of Romulus. I disbelieve the many claims as to his ability. I challenge him to prove his qualifications to act as industrial coordinator of Romulus. This job in most cities calls for a man with a Masters degree in Urban Planning. Our industrial coordinator's last two jobs have been in credit collecting.

The industrial coordinator was a political appointment of the last supervisor of Romulus Township. The present industrial coordinator ran the supervisor's campaign and was appointed as a reward.

It seems to me that a City Council that tells its voters that we are going first class, and then takes second best, should be prepared to answer these same voters.

Or perhaps there is something to the rumor that certain money backed our new mayor for special reasons.

I request a special inquiry. Let our new City Council ask why such an unqualified man can receive approximately $12,000 in salary from the taxpayers.

Maybe that is why our master plan is such a master failure. And the City of Romulus is turning into another River Rouge, with all available land zoned for industry.

Santa's Belleville visit will be annual event

Santa Claus' visit to the Belleville area this year was reported to be a "happy and successful one" by none other than Santa himself.

The annual visit of Santa was sponsored by the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce. The chamber plans on making Santa's trip to town an annual event.

More than 6,500 children came to Santa's Workshop, located in downtown Belleville, to see Santa and tell him what they wanted for Christmas.

Both children and parents who visited and were interviewed by Santa were not only from the Belleville-Van Buren Township areas but from surrounding communities.

Many of the children, arrived on chartered buses from various area schools. Santa said that he was very happy to have seen so many good boys and girls.

Santa arrived in Belleville by helicopter on Dec. 5 and remained until Dec. 23 when he dismantled his workshop and returned to the North Pole.

Theodore H. Kuckelman, executive director of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, reported that the chamber's Christmas holiday program was one of the best ever held under the chamber's sponsorship and one of the best for area merchants.

Santa Claus was Eugene Gribble, 54, of 13560 Aston, Romulus, a dedicated Santa Claus for the last several Christmases.

SOUTH HAVEN - Mary Virgo, 15, of South Haven, was killed Monday when the car in which she was riding ran off a Van Buren County road and hit a tree roadside. Two others in the car were hospitalized in serious condition.

Farmers reduce water pollution

Nick Smith, chairman of the Michigan State ASC Committee said farmers will complete or substantially complete over 120 pollution abatement projects under the 1970 Agricultural Conservation Program.

Most of these projects reduce or eliminate the pollution of water by farm wastes from barnyards, feed lots, and other areas from which run-off constitutes an actual or potential pollution hazard.

Smith said, "Eighty five percent of the ACP cost-share funds in Michigan have been used to contribute to abating pollution of streams, rivers and lakes.

The program has benefited wildlife, increasing hunting, fishing and other recreational opportunities for all the people.

Smith pointed out that the basic purpose of the ACP since the year 1936 has been to conserve and improve our essential natural resources.

Late Tuesday afternoon, the President signed an appropriation bill for ACP. The 1971 program has been renamed the Rural Environmental Assistance Program.

As a member of the Wayne-Romulus CAP squadron in 1962, Roach was drill commander of the CAP drill team which brought Michigan its first national CAP drill championship. Roach's team also won the National VFW Junior Rifle Drill Team championship that same year.
In August, 1962, CAP Cadet Major Doug Roach was selected as the only cadet to be cleared for training to qualify for a ride in a B-52 bomber.

Roach was cleared by the Strategic Air Command, the Air Police and the National Air Defense Agency to undergo high-altitude training at Wright Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio for the ride.

A former photographer for Associated Newspapers, Inc., Roach previously lived at 3662 Bibbins, Romulus. His father, Leo D. Roach, was president of Manufacturers National Bank's Romulus branch.

Tax exemption time approaches

Applications for Senior Citizens Homestead Tax Exemption for 1971 are now available at the city assessor's office, Romulus City Hall, 36572 Goddard Rd.

The law requires that eligible senior citizens (65 years old or older) must file each year during a period from Jan. 4 through March 9 an affidavit for the tax exemption.

Senior citizens who apply are asked to bring a copy of their current tax bill, proof of age (birth certificate, driver's license or voter's registration) and proof of ownership, such as a deed to property, land contract, mortgage or life estate.

The city assessor's office is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The tax exemption, if approved, amounts to $2,500.

The Senior Citizens Homestead Tax Exemption Act was amended this year to allow participants in the program an annual income up to $6,000 and unlimited property valuation.

Hope Baptist starts work on addition

About 12½ years ago, a handful of people put up a tent at 30025 King Rd. Romulus, for the start of the Hope Baptist Church.

Exactly 12 years ago this month, these same people held a sacred dedication of the present church building. True, it wasn't much more than a shell, with much of the furniture hand-made by the present church treasurer, Arnold Frantz, of Flat Rock. In fact, Frantz built the pulpit, which is still in use.

As time went by, much was added to the church spiritually and materially.

Then in July, 1967, Hope Baptist became affiliated with the Galilean Baptist Mission, a Michigan Ecclesiastical corporation, which has more than a half million dollars in assets.

This mission has now issued $25,000 in certificates of deposit which earn 7 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually and redeemable upon 90 day notice.

The sale of these certificates made it possible for Hope Baptist to build a 60-foot addition to the present building to accommodate 200 seats.

Consequently, Dec. 13 was a joyful and thankful occasion when Pastor Rev. James Lemmen and Frantz turned the first shovel of the ground for the new addition.

Rev. Lemmen has announced that certificates are still available to anyone interested. They can contact Pastor Lemmen for more information at 782-2145.

Huron sewer fund audit reveals shortage of $6,000

A shortage of $5,798.97 in Huron Township's sewer fund has been disclosed in an audit recently completed, Douglas C. Rhoads, newly elected Republican Supervisor, reported to the township board.

The audit of the township's books and records of the township's general operating fund, water department fund and sewer department fund was made by the firm of Doyle, Litt and Company of Madison Heights, Mich.

The audit of the sewer fund covered a period from March 28, 1970 to Nov. 20, 1970, when the township's new elected officials were administered their oath of office, Rhoads said.

The township board, when informed of the shortage at the Dec. 22 township board meeting, instructed Township Attorney Thornton Hopson to take the necessary action on collecting the shortage.

Former Township Treasurer James L. Krause was bonded during his tenure as township treasurer. He sought election as supervisor in the Nov. 3 general election and was defeated. There have been no charges of any kind filed as yet.

It was reported that an investigation is being made by the State Police Post at Flat Rock and the Wayne County Prosecutor's office into Huron Township's financial affairs prior to the election.

Former Township Supervisor George Angel ordered the audit. It was extended to cover the period mentioned above.

The CPA firm reported in the audit that "it was noted during the course of our examination of the sewer receiving fund cash receipts that monies received were not being deposited promptly to the bank. Further detailed examination of these receipts disclosed that checks received from debtors in payment of various sewer department services in a given period were being deposited to make up prior period deposits in substitution of cash received in these prior periods."

"Use of checks in this manner is commonly referred to as 'lapping' in accounting terminology. It was also disclosed that on Sept. 15, 1970 a check in the amount of $5,798.97 which should have been deposited to the Huron Township General Fund was in fact deposited to the sewer department receiving fund to cover an apparent cash shortage which existed in the sewer department receiving fund at that date."

The $5,798.97 check, dated Sept. 4, 1970, was submitted to Huron Township by the Wayne County Treasurer's office for the township's proportionate share of state income tax for the quarter which ended June 30, 1970.

ticket, said "They're always harrasing us," and that she still believed the men to be police officers. Prior to being stopped in Taylor, the men stopped at a motel and let the young couple out of the car.

Chief Koch stated the two defendants then drove to south on Telegraph Rd. to Northline Rd. and then onto I-94 Expressway into Washtenaw County to the vicinity of the Ford Rawsonville plant, where they allegedly raped the woman.

The woman was let out of the car. She was later picked up by a passing automobile and taken to the Belleville police station. Officers there called Romulus police.

State Police from the Ypsilanti post are investigating the men on the rape charge.

Romulus police reported the two men are to be charged in Washtenaw County for the offense.

During the ride, the woman told Romulus police that Clayton threatened her. He told her that he had a .38 caliber revolver and that, if she didn't keep down on the seat of the car, he would use it.

Sheriff-Romulus contract is model

Because it may be the model for future agreements, a proposed contract for the Wayne County Sheriff to take over all police services in Romulus will be studied carefully before it is approved by the County Board of Commissioners.

The commissioners, meeting as the Ways and Means Committee, referred the proposed contract to three county agencies for analysis and recommendations. The agencies are the Board of Auditors, the Civil Service Commission and the Prosecuting Attorney as legal advisor to the board.

The contract proposes that Romulus pay $348,000 for the Sheriff to provide a police force for the city. Under the contract, the city's 10 policemen would become sheriff's deputies.

It is the first such agreement negotiated since the Board of Commissioners notified local communities that free local police services by the Sheriff would be phased out gradually.

Metroplex plat plans approved

The final plat plans for the development of Metroplex Industrial Subdivision has been approved by the Romulus City Council.

The request for council's approval was made by Thompson-Brown Co., developer of industrial parks.

The new industrial park, Metroplex, is nearing completion at Ecorse and Middlebelt Rds., Romulus. It is being developed in cooperation with State Mutual Life Assurance Co. of America.

The final plat plan received the unanimous approval of the city council. It relates to 56 lots of the development.

The 80-acre, commercial-industrial development includes water, sewer and concrete paved streets.

grades, which said program contemplates the teaching of human sexuality, including the sex relationship and the reproductive process, and all aspects thereto, to be integrated into the general curriculum of the schools."

The suit charges that the plaintiffs' rights of privacy are being violated by the defendants' human development and sex education program both under state and federal laws.

Interim drain okayed

A resolution calling for an interim drain program for the City of Romulus has been unanimously approved by City Council.

The resolution follows a conference of city officials with the city engineers Wade, Trim & Associates, Inc., held recently regarding surface water problems of the city.

It was reported that the drainage system within the city has proved inadequate in providing sufficient drainage for surface waters. County drainage plans do not appear to be adequate to meet the continuing needs of the community both now — and in the future.

The City Council ordered the city engineering firm and city attorneys, Elsmann, Yount & O'Rourke in conjunction with City Council to prepare an interim drain program for the city.

This program is to outline the major drains in the area, establish priorities with regard to construction and improvement and to establish construction guidelines and design standards for use in the Romulus drain program.

CARE asks for help in feeding children

A medical study in Lahore, Pakistan, shows that 9 of 10 babies who reach their first birthday have already started a lifetime of undernourishment, the Associated Press reported recently.

Other studies have shown that malnutrition afflicts half the children in underdeveloped countries, and may cause permanent mental and physical damage in the young.

These poignant facts underscore the holiday-season CARE Food Crusade appeal, which asks Americans to help the world's hungry children grow into healthy, educated, self-supporting adults. Now, as we plan and shop to make Christmas happy for our children, it behooves us to remember these others who need help so badly.

Under CARE's plan, during the coming year some 23.4 million infants, young children and school children will be fed regularly at institutions — including schools and nutrition centers CARE helped build, and hospitals where CARE-MEXICO teams are working. They form the vast majority of a total 25 million people CARE will help feed in 35 countries, from Latin America to Africa and Asia.

To complete the plan, funds are needed to deliver 6,700,000 food packages, at $1 per package. U.S. donations of farm foods and operating support contributed by host governments will multiply our gift dollars. For example: every dollar can help feed a child for three months; $10 serves a full lunch to 900 children. Somewhere, the young will thrive and have a brighter future if you mail a check to: CARE Food Crusade, Guardian Building, Detroit, Mich. 48226

State treasury status tops legislature woes

The legislature will not officially adjourn its 1969-70 session until tomorrow, but all of its major business was concluded in a short, but busy session earlier in the month.

There will be some problems left for the new legislature, which will convene Jan. 13. One of the biggest and most immediate problems is the condition of the state treasury.

Because of the general downturn in economy, the lengthy General Motors strike and other factors, state revenues have lagged behind expectations. This is coupled with a number of unforeseen state expenses, including extra costs for welfare.

The legislature did take action this month to prevent some $50 million in expected deficit, but there was a delay in the House on a proposal to shift $11 million out of the Uninsured Motor Vehicle Fund and into the General Fund. There were objections in the House to move this earmarked money. Although it may be necessary to do so, it need not be accomplished immediately.

The governor's office earlier had estimated that Michigan faced a $62 million deficit by the end of this fiscal year. Since then, however, some other disturbing factors have arisen. They include the need for some $50 million more to meet increased welfare costs, about $16 million extra needed for education programs, based on revised figures, and approximately $12 million which General Motors seeks from the state in refunds from pre-paid taxes.

The 1971 legislature also will have to face the need for reform of Michigan's drug laws. This will be necessary because of the failure this month of the Senate to approve a House-passed comprehensive drug law reform program. Revision of the drug laws will now have to wait until the 1971 session.

The key bill, approved by a 62-7 vote in the House but rejected by the Senate, was introduced after extensive studies of a House special committee on narcotics. The committee recommended, in effect, that state drug laws be modernized in order to ef-

Speaking of schools

Speech correction in schools

Van Buren Public Schools has hired four speech correctionists, Mrs. Carol Doll, Mrs. Rita Edford, Miss Faith Kuzma and Mrs. Clara Packard.

Each of the correctionists services two or three elementary schools with approximately 50 sessions per week.

Four days a week are spent in therapy with the children and the fifth day is a coordination day to attend to such things as parent conferences, classroom teacher conferences, home calls, child testing, extra therapy, lesson planning, writing reports, staff conferences and clinic appointments.

Speech correctionists work with five main types of problems: (1) omissions, substitutions, additions, or distortions of sounds (articulation problems); (2) repetition of sounds, words, phrases, or sentences; (3) physical problems such as cleft palate and cerebral palsy; (4) meaningless jargon or no speech at all; and (5) inappropriate voice pitch.

In the fall of each year the speech correctionist determines which children are most in need of speech help. She screens the first grades, children who were in speech the previous year, all children new to the school system and any child who has been referred by a teacher.

Each speech correctionist uses her own particular method of screening these children. However, a sample of the child's conversational speech is usually included in the screening.

At the conclusion of the screening, the speech correctionist must decide which children she should work with.

Some factors to consider are: severity and type of problem in view of the child's age, probability of the child's progress, and the feelings of the child about his problem. Those children who are included in the nature and extent of their speech problems. More severe problems are referred for intensive therapy.

The Speech Correction Program in Michigan is state reimbursed. The state also determines how many children each correctionist may work with (a minimum of 75, but not more than 100) and the amount of time spent with each child per week (one hour).

Speech correctionist must be approved for teaching speech correction in accordance with requirements prescribed by the Michigan Superintendent of Public Instruction. (This determines which courses must be taken while at a college or university.)

They must hold a Master's Degree and a teacher's certificate.

Make, keep your resolutions

Many of us will be making New Year's resolutions in just a matter of hours.

Our resolutions made with good intentions will embrace nearly every activity of thought, word and deed.

Some will resolve to stop smoking, others to stop drinking and still others to make life more enjoyable by a greater exercise of patience, understanding and love.

Resolutions are good and their initiation strengthen the mind and soul of a person. And the longer they are kept, the more a person grows in constancy of purpose.

In this connection we like to quote Shakespeare and poet Ralph Waldo Emerson:

"A good intention clothes itself with power." — Emerson.

"Do not, for one repulse, forego the purpose that you resolved to effect." — Shakespeare.

Aside from wanting to better ourselves and to improve our relations with our neighbors and community, New Year's seems like a good time for thoughtful citizens to resolve to make pledges other than strictly personal.

Resolutions that pertain to community-wide living, cooperation with elected officials, such as working for anti-pollution programs, keeping your community clean and beautiful, volunteering your services to government boards and commissions, and, above all, doing a good day's work. In the end, it will not only help you and your employer, but your future and that of your community.

A happy New Year will mean more if good resolutions are made and kept.

By HENRY CANTIN

Speaking of New Year's we like to cite comments from the Industrial Service:

The month of January is named after an ancient Latin divinity, Janus, often represented in Roman coinage as having one head with two bearded faces, one looking forward and the other backward.

Janus was worshiped as the god of gods, the sovereign disposer of war and peace and the dispenser of the futures of mankind. All doors and all passages were said to be under his care.

The symbolism of this mythological deity is especially appropriate in this uncertain time.

We appear to be on the edge of a new era, but true progress in human relationships and material well-being must be built on the proven values and accomplishments of our heritage.

Wayne County College must not close doors

To the Editor:

Following many years of dedicated effort on the part of a small group of concerned citizens and educators, a unique educational institution was founded with a most modest and austere budget.

This money was provided by the New Detroit Committee and the State Legislature of Michigan along with the help of 1,300 dedicated educators from Detroit Metropolitan area schools. This unique much needed institution set national records in enrollments - 15,000 students after only semesters. That would be positive evidence of the need and popularity of this institution.

Several precedents, national in scope, were set. Tuition cost was a normal sum of $9 per credit hour an "Open door admission policy" provided a college education to many thousands of the young and old of all races who would otherwise never have the opportunity to further their education.

Today, due to many negative reasons, our college is in severe financial trouble. Three times our citizens have rejected supporting an institution of higher learning in our largest, most populous and wealthiest country.

This college must not fail! It must become a successful and on-going institution for several important reasons. Education, accurate information and enlightenment stands at the crux of our social and economic problems, for without proper factual and objective non-biased education can understanding be attained.

Dr. Sterling W. Brown, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews addressed on Nov. 30, 1970, more than 350 persons in New York City stating that "polarization is the greatest danger facing our nation today."

Dr. Kenneth Clark, internationally known black psychologist urged an audience of more than 1,000 persons at Wayne State University on May 6, 1969 "massive and immediate crash programs in remedial education be provided - unprepared, rejected, flaboyant and hostile, they (black youth) are the raw materials for demagogues. We want to go to the moon before everyone, but we throw these youngsters on society's scrap heap."

Enter Wayne County Community College. It is uniquely organized to meet the needs of these youngsters (black and white and all other minority youth) to receive that remedial and/or enriching education that is possibly the only thing that will turn our country around from the deadly and ominous polarization that increases daily.

For the minority youth, Wayne County Community College provides a glimmer of hope, a renewal of faith in the democratic process of our beloved homeland, a new feeling of belonging - truly belonging to the society for which he has so much hope and to which he has contributed so much for which he received practically no thanks or recognition. Don't let this college down.

If we as patriotic American are truly sincere in our aspirations for a great America, a country to be respected and emulated by the world, accepted as deserving the role of leadership. Support this college and do not handicap our youth further in developing the skills and social compatibility that is an absolute requirement for the elimination of intolerance, particularly bias, frustration, hatred, alienation, polarization and finally a segregated apartheid society.

Urge your Governor, congressmen, mayors, councilmen; leaders in all areas of influence to appropriate funds commensurate with the numbers, needs, and interest that is so vividly exemplified in the 15,000 students at Wayne County Community College.

Don't delay any longer, for this will be another cruel and dehumanizing "slap in the face" for the black community - and also to the many, many well-meaning, fair-minded whites (children and adults) for they too need this college.

This is a sincere, from-the-heart appeal from a loyal, concerned taxpayer citizen who is an educator and who wants to contribute to the possible good for all our citizens. Members of the State Legislature, please live up to your responsibility to your entire constituency who elected you to office for service and leadership. Lead! Appropriate all necessary and sufficient funding to permanently establish Wayne County Community College to help reverse the continuing threatening polarization before we will suffer a greater tragedy than has been visited upon our country in this past decade.

Memory cures more than ablest doctor

NEW YORK AP — Memory is the greatest medicine man.

It heals and cures better than the ablest doctor. And like a skilled surgeon, it selectively removes the dead tissue of the mind so that only the living past remains to encourage us and make us hopeful.

Memory helps give us fortitude and keep us brave. It suggests that if we have endured what has already happened to us, we have good reason to expect that we can bear to survive what lies ahead.

Every heart is thronged with a million memories, large or small. Your are well supplied with them yourself if you can look back and remember when —

After a long cold trip in a buggy, everyone rushed to the fireplace and turned his back to it to warm his bottom.

People roasted chestnuts at home instead of buying them from a street peddler.

Wallace Beery, a onetime chorus boy with a face as homely as a potato, became in middle age one of the nation's most popular film stars.

The last men to give up wearing a vest were scholars, because it served as such a wonderful backdrop to show off their Phi Beta Kappa keys.

For every American who cleaned his teeth with a toothbrush, there were three who did it with a toothpick.

If you found a lump of coal in the bottom of your stocking on Christmas morning, that was Santa's way of warning you that you had been a bad boy or girl — and next year might not get a present unless you mended your ways.

To be fat was no disgrace. Many doctors thought plumpness was a sign of health, and worried that an underweight patient was likely to come down with tuberculosis.

Penmanship was an art. Whether or not its contents were worthwhile, a letter was often made memorable by the curlicues that adorned the writing.

Before the popularity of the bchristmas office party waxed and waned, few fathers came home on yuletide eve loaded — but sometimes their breath did smell a bit of Sen Sen.

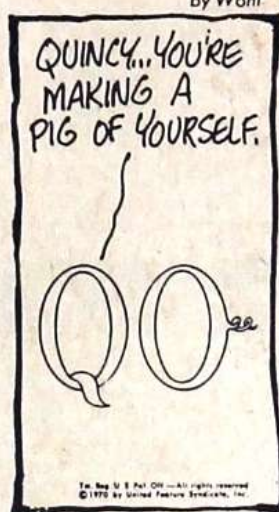

No one reached for a helping until the man who sat at the head of the table had asked, with folded hands, a blessing on all who sat there from the One in whose honor they had gathered.

Those were the days — remember?

School bus stop law will change March 30

Revisions in Michigan's School Bus Stop Law become effective on March 30, Charles "Bob" Cook, director of transportation for the Van Buren Public School System, disclosed Monday.

The new legislation of the bus stop law has been detailed by Cook for both the school bus drivers, parents and students by the way of the school district's newsletter, Cook said.

The revision provides for the following changes relating to stopping of school buses and related matters:

1-Traffic will not be required to stop for a stopped school bus unless the school bus' alternating flashing red lights are in operation.

2-Only those school buses operating outside of incorporated areas and inside incorporated areas where stopping of school buses is controlled by local ordinance shall be required to be equipped with alternating flashing red lights.

3-Flashing lights shall not be activated inside incorporated cities or villages unless stopping of school buses is controlled by local ordinance. 4-When a school bus required to activate alternately flashing red lights is about to stop it shall activate the lights at least 200 feet in advance of the stop.

5-Deactivation of flashing lights will permit traffic to proceed past a stopped school bus.

6-Any vehicle which passes a stopped school bus displaying flashing lights shall be presumed to be operated by its owner and proof that the vehicle illegally passed the school bus shall be presumption of guilt.

7-It will be illegal for a person under the age of 21 to drive a school bus for transportation of children at any time.

Van Buren School System has a fleet of 66 buses with 55 school buses on regular daily runs, Cook reported.

Each bus used on a regular daily basis travels approximately 3,000 miles each day he said.

Saturday window service to end at post offices

Window service, now available on Saturdays at area post offices, will be discontinued on Saturday, Jan. 9.

Post office lobbies at Belleville, Romulus and New Boston will be opened from 8:30 a.m. to noon for locked-box patrons and for "will call" postal service. Postmasters Ray J. O'Neil of Belleville, George Austin of Romulus and Harry Schiminsky of New Boston, jointly announced Monday.

The delivery of mail will be made on Saturdays as in the past they said.

Area post offices and their branches will be closed on New Year's Day. Special delivery and per-shable parcel post will be delivered. Postal lobbies will be open from noon to 2 p.m. on New Year's Day for postal box customers and for the deposit of mail.

There will be no window service on Jan. 2, but delivery of mail will be made. O'Neil said that the new postal orders eliminating window service on Saturdays until further notice is "keeping in line with many business establishments and to permit postal employees more time with their families."

To compensate for the lack of window service beginning on Saturday Jan. 9, the post office will remain open one hour later, until 6 p.m., on Fridays.

The order was also issued due to the small amount of mail business transacted on Saturdays, O'Neil said.

Contract stations, located in these communities, will be opened on Saturdays.

Taxation causes trouble

City and suburban tax needs have caused much of Michigan's best farm land to become non-productive of food and fiber, according to B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Farms near cities or between cities and outlying developments are assessed for streets, sewers, water lines, schools and community needs.

This heavy annual tax load is often beyond the ability of the land to pay off in farm income, Ball said.

"We can't afford to continue sacrificing our most precious natural resource-the land itself," he said.

Senior citizens hold party

The Romulus Senior Citizens Club has announced the addition of four new members to the club's membership rolls. They are: King LaFleur, Mrs. Ivory Wallace, Mrs. George Jorden and Miss Margo G. Ceciel.

The club held its annual Christmas party at the Civic Center Hall last Tuesday, Dec. 22.

Following dinner, gifts were exchanged among members. A raffle was held. The prize, a home-made coverall apron, was won by William Davidson who donated it back to the club to be used by kitchen helpers. "The Magnificent Eight," a teenage church-oriented group, provided music for the occasion. The group's president, Mary Joyce Carter, was the pianist.

SEMCOG urges cities, schools to join group

Chairman of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, Mel Ravitz, issued a statement today urging some 242 governments in southeast Michigan to join the organization.

The chairman, a Detroit Common Councilman, said that 22 of 41 area communities with more than 25,000 residents were not members.

Belleville is among the cities not represented in the organization. The Huron School District, Romulus Community Schools and Van Buren Public Schools do not have representation in the group.

SEMCOG is a voluntary association of local governmental units organized in January, 1968, as an outgrowth of the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission, which has functioned in southeast Michigan since 1947.

The organization is designed to initiate development of the entire area with collective efforts of participating municipalities.

There are presently 104 member units of government representing slightly more than 70 per cent of the 4.7 million population of southeast Michigan.

Presently, five or six counties are represented in the organization.

Cities and villages are represented in a 47 to 109 ratio, with 22 of 105 townships and 30 of 126 school districts also taking part in SEMCOG activities.

In his statement to non-member cities, Ravitz said: "The Southeast Michigan Council of Governments has reached a critical period in its growth. As its chairman, and as a representative of one of the member local units of government in SEMCOG, I feel obligated to point out to you an urgent matter of concern to your constituency."

Ravitz then explained the make-up and goals of SEMCOG, along with statistics of membership.

He said SEMCOG'S growth depends on the willingness of governing bodies "to participate as SEMCOG members in matters or regional concern."

He said, "If all governments and school districts were participating members of SEMCOG, their local dues would provide an adequate base of local funding to attract the $1.2 million in federal and state monies needed to maintain a reasonable and effective program."

"Unfortunately, some governmental units, like

Glinski resumes work

Romulus City Treasurer Albert Glinski has returned to work after suffering severe injuries in a fall at home two weeks ago.

Glinski suffered a fractured left arm and two fractured left ribs when he fell from a ladder while putting up Christmas decorations at his residence, 36915 Ferndale.

Sheriff's phone is toll-free

Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas has announced that toll free telephone service is presently available for telephone exchanges in the townships of Van Buren, Sumpter, Huron and Brownstown which require dialing the prefix 1.

The sheriff's road patrol may now be contacted toll free by dialing the following telephone number: 1-800-462-5575.

Seek fire equipment

A request by City Fire Chief Anthony Talaga for the purchase of the "squirt" apparatus for the city fire truck has been presented to City Council.

After some discussion, Mayor Royce E. Smith said that he will contact the manufacturer, American LaFrance, for further information for the Jan. 18 session of City Council.

yours, are not members of SEMCOG.

"As a result, SEMCOG has had to seek other funding sources," he said.

"We hope these other funding efforts will succeed, but there is no assurance of such success. Indeed, for several reasons, including the stress of current economic conditions, these efforts may fail.

"Concurrent with these funding problems, a movement to change the basic structure of SEMCOG as a broadly-based voluntary association open to all local units of government is gaining momentum. The result could be a changed organization in which local units of government would lose direct representation and participation in SEMCOG matters.

"Other alternatives might even be mandated by either the state or federal government in case our local efforts do not result in an effective voluntary association.

"The best hope of maintaining a strong, voluntary and effective locally-controlled Council of Governments lies in local units of Government like yours deciding to join SEMCOG now.

"I urge you and others a responsible for your community's participation in SEMCOG to take another look at this matter. Clearly there must be increasing involvement of a regional council of some sort in several region-wide matters of concern in South-east Michigan.

"We find the Council of Government approach far preferable to imposition of a "super government of any kind, or to the chaos that would erupt if there is no rational regional system."

"Your government will help decide the kind of regional structure Southeast Michigan develops."

Retirees may become eligible to negotiate benefits

WASHINGTON - lower court decision, if allowed to stand, could touch retirement benefits for millions of workingmen and perhaps lead to disappearance of countless other subjects from bargaining tables. The case affects directly only 190 retired employees in Ohio. But labor lawyers say a been required to negotiate retirement programs for active workers, and many have bargained voluntarily to increase benefits for workers already retired. Last June 10, however, the U.S. Court of Appeals at Cincinnati overturned a National Labor Relations

Board decision and ruled labor could not insist, as a matter of law, that management negotiate benefits for retired workers. The importance of the case is underlined by the fact friend-of-the-court briefs were filed on management's side by the National Association of Manufacturers and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, and on the NLRB side by the AFL-CIO, the United Auto Workers, the Steelworkers and Transit Workers. The case dates back to 1965 when the federal medicare law was enacted and Local 1 of the Allied Chemical Workers of America asked Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. to renegotiate medical benefits for its 190 retired employees. At the time Pittsburgh Plate, under a 1964 agreement, contributed $2 a month to medical insurance premiums of retired workers. Rather than bargain with the union, however, the company offered to pick up the $3 monthly medicare costs for any retired workers who would drop out of the company medical insurance plan. Fifteen accepted the offer. The union complained the company was guilty of unlawful refusal to bargain, and the NLRB agreed. The appeals court, however, reversed the NLRB, and held that retired workers are not employees as defined by the National Labor Relations Act. The court is not expected to decide whether to review the case of several weeks.

Pvt. Robert D. Foster

Our men in service

United States Army Pfc. Robert D. Foster, 18, son of Mrs. Ruby Foster, 10790 Textile Rd., Van Buren Township, has arrived home for a holiday leave. Pfc. Foster is assigned to Company E 4th Battalion, Second Brigade at Fort Lewis, Washington D. C. He attended Belleville High School prior to entering the military service.

Airman First Class Timothy G. Fitzhugh is currently on duty at Cam Ranh Bay, Vietnam where he is an air freight specialist in a unit of the Pacific Air Forces. Before his arrival in Southeast Asia, Fitzhugh served at McChord AFB, Wash. He is a 1969 graduate of Belleville High School. McChord's wife Marie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melven J. Poet, 7900 Hannan Rd., Wayne.

Navy Fireman Daniel E. Cavanaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ovid F. Cavanaugh of 12751 Harrison, Romulus, has returned to Pearl Harbor after six months in the western Pacific aboard the destroyer USS James C. Owens. During her deployment, the James C. Owens provided Naval gunfire support for allied ground forces in Vietnam and escorted Seventh Fleet aircraft carriers in the Gulf of Tonkin.

Radiounits purchased

A bid of $4,275 submitted by RCA of Southfield, Mich., for six mobile radio units to be used by the Van Buren Township Fire Department was approved by the township board.

Township Clerk Mrs. Erma Jean Payne reported that the bid was one of four bids received. The bids ranged up to $6,334, she said.

A request made by North Junior High School to use the township's baseball diamond this spring was received by the township board and referred to the recreation commission for scheduling.

New Year's party slated

A gala party has been arranged in Romulus by the I.Q. group for New Year's Eve. It will be held in the Progressive Hall, located at 11580 Orza Rd.

A five-piece dance band will entertain from 10 p.m. to 3 a.m. The I.Q. group was the moving force behind the drive to make Romulus a city last spring. The people who participated are looking forward to getting together for a big fun night. Ticket sales will be limited to prevent over crowding of the hall.

Riders 4-H Sings

The Romulus Western Riders 4-H club held its annual Christmas caroling night Wednesday, Dec. 23, when the members went through the Romulus community singing for shutins and others.

Driving their automobiles to furnish transportation were James Morris, Fred M. Hay and Leader Mrs. Helen Hav.

The carolers returned to the Carl W. Morris home on S. Huron River Dr. for refreshments of hot chocolate, sloppy joes and dessert, with member James Morris acting as host.

President Marie Diepenhorst did Santa Claus honors at the gift exchange later in the evening.

Other members attending were Thomas Madej, Mary Rhodes, Carla Hay, Kathleen Hood, Sid Rhodes, and other guests. Franklyn Fock was unable to be there because of illness.

Junior Miss visits Cubs

Miss Susan Watson, Belleville's Junior Miss, entertained members of Cub Scout Pack 754 of Quirk Road Elementary School at the pack's December meeting.

Miss Watson played the guitar and led the audience in the singing of Christmas carols. Santa Claus and his helper, Christmas Carol, passed out fruit and candy to the children.

Ron Vowles, the pack's new assistant cubmaster, was introduced to the cub scouts.

The following boys received awards:

Jeff Clark, George Speaks, Rick Cottenham, Chet May, Gary Udovich, Bob Hollenbeck, Doug Perry, Tim Dobbs, Joe Stoops, Jimmy Skwarlo, Chris Vowles, Terry Gibson, John Byrd, Tim McShane, Kevin Patke, Gary Sherwood, Tony Gibson, Brian Harris, and John Hargrave.

Mrs. Linda Marcum and Mrs. Annette Byrd, den mothers received one year pins. Mrs. Pamela Schmidt resigned as kitchen chairman.

Den Seven and the Webelos tied for the achievement trophy. Den Seven won the coin toss so they will retain the trophy for the month of January. Den One won the attendance banner for the fifth month in a row.

Our country's founding fathers wanted to be sure our citizens are provided with fun and relaxation as well as governed democratically. So they created Congress.

Compact mobile is news

"The compact snowmobile is the real news in the snowmobile industry this year," said Lefty Price of Huron Sod Farms, Inc., 30877 Pennsylvania, Rd. Romulus.

It's the compact machine without frills, but with the design components of a regular-sized snowmobile for safety and performance.

One of the unique compacts is the new '71 Ski-Doo Elan by Bombardier.

The Elan has 12-hp Rotax engine, all steel frame, tilt forward fiberglass cowl, deep profile track, storage compartment, front and rear bumpers, and track dimensions close to the Ski-Doo Olympique, lowest-priced full-size machine.

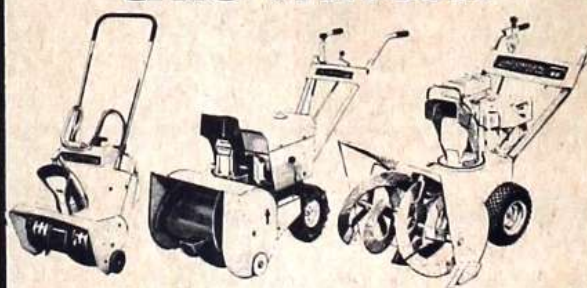

The Major differences are the Elan's weight, only 246 pounds, and a price tag of $595 suggested retail.

Another unique aspect of this compact: the Elan comes with electric start as an option at slightly more price and weight.

"The Elan is not a kiddie machine," Price, local Ski-Doo dealer pointed out. "It's designed for the same rugged family action as full-size machines."

The new Elan is now on display at Huron Sod Farms, Inc.

Spend less time stuck at home this winter.

CITY OF BELLEVILLE COUNCIL MINUTES

REGULAR MEETING

DECEMBER 21, 1970

A regular meeting of the City Council for the City of Belleville, County of Wayne and State of Michigan, was called to order by Mayor Smith, with Councilman Palmer, Hamlin, Amerman and Boone present.

Motion by Amerman, seconded by Boone, that the minutes of the regular meeting, held December 7, 1970, be approved.

Carried unanimously.

Motion by Palmer, seconded by Hamlin, that the bills presented for payment, be paid.

Carried unanimously.

Upon Motion by Boone, supported by Amerman, that the following resolution was offered:

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, at its meeting of May 22, 1969, adopted a resolution which returned collection of delinquent personal property taxes back to local communities, and

WHEREAS, this resolution will place an extreme burden on local communities for reasons of lack of personnel at the local level, lack of time, transportation and office space, additional workload on part time legal staffs, and general lack of experience in local communities for collection of delinquent personal property taxes; and

WHEREAS, the City Treasurers and/or their respective representatives within Wayne County, have urged the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to rescind the resolution adopted on May 22, 1969, relative to collection of delinquent personal property taxes; and

WHEREAS, the City Council of the City of Belleville is desirous of urging the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to explore all possible revenues to find an alternative which will make it feasible for the Wayne County to continue to collect delinquent personal property taxes.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that, the Mayor and Council of the City of Belleville hereby respectfully request the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to rescind its resolution adopted on May 22, 1969 causing the collection of delinquent personal property taxes to revert back to local communities for collection thereof, and to explore other avenues which would provide a feasible alternative to permit the County to continue the collection of these taxes.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Mayor and Council of the City of Belleville pledges to give its assistance in encouraging legislation, if necessary, to make it feasible possible for the County to continue the collection of delinquent personal property taxes.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that certified copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Wayne County Board of Commissioners and municipalities in Wayne County.

AYES: PALMER, HAMLIN, BOONE, AMERMAN, SMITH

NAYS: NONE

Motion by Palmer, seconded by Boone, that Councilman Hamlin be excused from the Council meeting to be held January 4, 1971.

Carried unanimously.

Anthony Talaga, Fire Chief for the City of Belleville, presented a brochure on the "SQUIRT" Apparatus for the Fire Truck, and discussion was held. Mayor Smith will contact American LaFrance for further information for the January 18, 1971 meeting.

Motion by Boone, seconded by Amerman, that all City Employees receive a $10.00 Christmas Bonus.

Carried unanimously.

Upon request of the City Planning Commission, the Mayor and City Council instructed the City Attorney, B. Ward Smith, to attend the Planning Commission Meeting to be held January 12, 1971, for the purpose of studying and revising the City of Belleville Zoning Ordinance No. 65-86.

Motion by Hamlin, seconded by Amerman, that the meeting be adjourned.

Carried unanimously.

Tigers reach tourney finals

Belleville wins 4 in row

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Belleville Coach Allen Gates and the Tiger basketball team are ringing out the old year with one of their longest winning streaks in recent years.

Trouncing Livonia Churchill and Cherry Hill at the Wayne Memorial Holiday Tournament last week, Belleville has extended its victory string to four games - the Tigers' longest in six seasons.

Coach Gates and his squad were to meet Plymouth last night for the tournament championship.

"We're reaching the potential that I know we have," said Coach Gates. "These boys can play ball and they have proved it. We just have to continue with this momentum that we have."

The victory string began at Wayne Memorial when Bob Lytle sank an on-the-buzzer desperation shot from mid-court to give the Tigers a 74-73 victory over their nonleague rivals. That victory shattered a two-game losing streak.

Since then Belleville also has turned back Suburban Six foe, Redford Union (78-73) and picked up tournament victories over Cherry Hill, 76-63 and Livonia Churchill, 68-58.

Lack of depth, however,

Enterprise-Roman Sports

Wednesday, December 30, 1970

almost proved Belleville's undoing as the Tigers saw a 22 point third quarter lead (62-40) evaporate against Churchill in the semifinal rounds at Wayne.

Coach Gates was forced to yank his starters out of the game to give them a rest and his reserves came up with but six points in the final eight minutes of the game as the Livonia quintet cut the lead to 10 points.

"We're going to have to cross our fingers and hope that we get better results from our reserves," said Gates. "We had to sweat in that last quarter."

Belleville pounced on Churchill in the opening eight minutes with Garrade Pettus and Lytle each firing in seven points while Mike Garland supported his teammates with six.

Pettus and Tony Ogletree combined to provide the offensive punch in the second quarter as Pettus drilled in eight more points and Ogletree counted seven to lift their team to a 44-27 halftime advantage.

The Tigers appeared to have the game all sewed up, going ahead by as much as 27 points in the third quarter when Coach Gates called upon his second stringers.

Pettus led all scorers as he poured in nine field goals and three free throws for 21 points. Teammates Lytle, Garland and Marty Miller were also in double with 12, 11 and 10 points, respectively.

Miller, a slick blue-chip junior guard, took matters into his own hands when Pettus was sidelined with three fouls in the second quarter in the 76-63 triumph over Cherry Hill in the first round of tournament play.

The Tigers, floundering for eight minutes and unable to shake the defending champs who kept uncomfortably close for eight minutes (17-12) were finally gunned down by Miller and Co. in the second quarter when Belleville outscored their rival, 23-13.

Belleville worked its way to a 63-37 third quarter and was never seriously threatened after that.

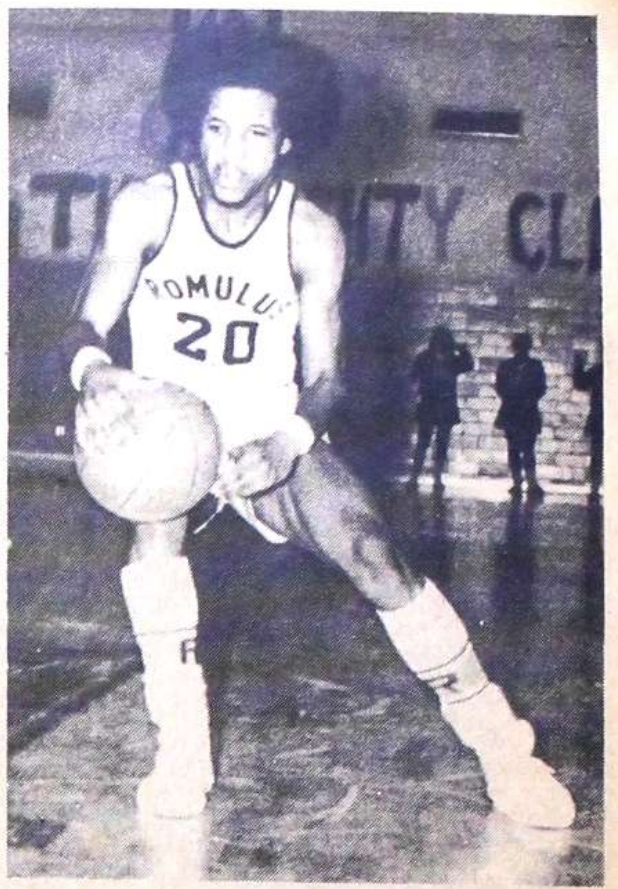

Miller posted a career high when he sank 10 baskets and three free throws for 23 points - which also was the game's high. Lytle came up with another superb game, scoring on seven direct hits from the court and three more from the free throw line for 17. Garland counted 10 points.

Cherry Hill had two 15-point performances from captain Andy Solovey and center Mark Schnitzlein.

The Spartans also got 23 of their points from the free throw line where they missed out on another 18. Belleville slipped in 14 of their 26 tries.

PROMISING PROSPECT - Romulus' Ron Kersey is one reason why the Eagles have been looking good on the hardwood this season. The sophomore guard has hit in double figures for Coach Dave Court's team, carrying a 12 ppg average for the four games he has started. Kersey and the Eagles will resume nonleague competition after the New Year, hosting Mid-Wayne Conference member, Lutheran West next Wednesday.

Vogel looks to battle

BALTIMORE AP - Offensive tackle Bob Vogel of the Baltimore Colts is looking forward to opposing Ben Davidson, Oakland's big, bad defensive end, in Sunday's American Football Conference title game.

No, Vogel hasn't been whacked on the helmet too many times during his football career. It's just that Davidson, and the Raiders, are standing in the way of a Baltimore trip to the Super Bowl.

"Something that stimulates me," Vogel said, "is that of the three teams switched from the National Football League to the AFC, we're the only one left, in the playoffs."

"I think we have something special to prove. The last time we were in the Super Bowl, we were badly embarrassed. You don't soon forget that kind of thing."

Vogel referred to 1969, when the Colts lost 16-7 to the underdog New York Jets and became the first team from the NFL to lose in the Super Bowl.

"The motivating factor, to me at least," said Vogel, "is not solely financial. Pride means an awful lot, and Oakland is now standing in the way of the Colts having another shot at the Super Bowl."

Each player on the winning team in Sunday's title game in Baltimore will receive $8,500, and the Super Bowl will mean another $15,000 each for the winning players.

"Playing against Davidson is a real challenge," Vogel said. "He is stronger and taller than me, and must outweigh me almost 40 pounds. I guess I enjoy playing against him because he works hard at his job."

Sports Meridian

Wednesday morning quarterback

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Guess I'll never understand coaches - but sportswriters and editors aren't supposed to, I guess. Here it is Wednesday morning and it's time for some Wednesday morning quarterbacking. I guess.

But, for the life of me how can Lions Head Coach Joe Schmidt ever hold his head up after that 5-0 humiliation from Dallas on Saturday? (No, I'm not going to say I told you so, but I did, didn't I?) Really, I can't figure Joe out, though, evidently, Dallas' Tom Landry had him pegged from the beginning.

O.K. so we lost. There's no disgrace to that. Is there? There sure is, especially when you go around bragging that, "Instead of a flip of a coin (which would have been necessary if Dallas and Detroit had been tied in the regular season and to determine the fourth playoff berth, the infamous coin flip would have decided which of the two teams would take part - but that's past history) we would meet Dallas in a 'special playoff'". Those are Coach Schmidt words as reported by my colleagues.

Well, he got his special playoffs and he didn't look too pleased as he roamed aimlessly off the field at Dallas.

And, Dear Joe, you have a guy in your lineup - Mel Farr - who can't raise his arms above his shoulders because of an injury. That's no disgrace. But you also have a Steve Owens, who you used for one play who rushed through the Dallas defense for eight yards in that one try, and that's all you gave him a chance to do.

Are you trying to peddle off the idea that an injured Farr is better than a healthy Owens?

And then, of course, there's Greg Landry. No superlative is needed to describe his performances up to the Dallas game. He's great. But do you know that it also was Landry who was calling the signals a couple of years ago when the Lions took that 52-13 shellacking from the Cowboys?

Sure you remember, Joe. You haven't forgotten and neither has Landry.

Why did you wait so long to give Bill Munson a chance? Oh, well, the cliché is: "Wait till next year?" And Lions' fans have been waiting patiently, but for how many more, Joe?

Nunley Has No 'Cold' Problem

There was one guy who didn't mind the Minnesota sub-zero weather and for good reason. He's Michigan-bred, Frank Nunley, who starred at Belleville in the early 60s, then went on to the University of Michigan to gain fame as a Big 10 gridder.

Nunley, who is presently playing the middle linebacker slot for the San Francisco 49ers, came up with five unassisted and two assists (I counted them) tackles against the Vikings and was part of the defense that frustrated the Central Division champs, 17-14, on Saturday.

Nunley said in a post-game interview, "I'm from Michigan. I'm kind of used to the cold. I'd like it to have been five degrees colder. When it's cold, you don't get tired," he said.

Nunley went on to discuss the outcome of the game, using superlatives to describe his teammates.

"We played the best game we've ever played. When we play this well, we would have beaten any team, real bad. And I think we had a real good defensive game against them. We played it simple and made just a few changes from our game plan."

Nunley will again be seen in action on Sunday when the 49ers run up against the Dallas Cowboys for the National Football Conference championship.

The winner of that game will advance, of course, to meet the winner of the American Football Conference title - Baltimore or Oakland - in the Super Bowl.

Dream, Joe, dream.....

IT STARTED HERE - Belleville began its four game winning streak at Wayne Memorial, beating the Zebras, 74-73, in a nonleague tilt to snap a two-game losing streak. Coach Allen Gates' Tigers went on to defeat Redford Union, Cherry Hill and Livonia Churchill to bring their over-all season's record to 4-2. Above Belleville's Eddie Branam passes off against Wayne's zone defense.

Two teams stand alone

The race at the top of the National Hockey League's East Division has turned into a two-way struggle between the Boston Bruins and New York Rangers and the success of those two teams has come in exactly opposite ways.

The Bruins, who lead the Rangers by two points, have scored 147 goals in just 32 games and are almost halfway to their record total of 303 established last year.

Boston has the top four scorers in the league including the leader, Phil Esposito, who is zooming at a pace of two points per game. Espo has 64 points, 30 of them on goals. Six of the top 10 scorers are Bruins.

The Rangers, on the other hand, have done it with defense. Their two goalies, Ed Giacomin and Gilles Villemure, have combined for six shutouts and their 1.93 goals against average is the best in the league.

Skiers can ride

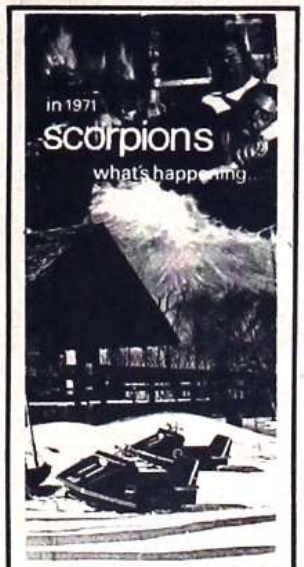

Ski with USS. You'll hear that term often as the United Skiers Service, Inc., the only special skiers travel service specializing in the ski market in Metropolitan Detroit, will once again offer their weekend charter bus to Boyne Mt. beginning January 9, 1971 and continuing each weekend through March.

The bus offers service to both westside and eastside Detroiters leaving from Schneider's Sport Shop in Dearborn at 7:00 P.M. and from Oakland Mall in Troy at 7:45 P.M. Lodging will be provided at the Holiday Inn in Gaylord on Friday and Saturday evening with bus service to and from Boyne Mt. and Saturday and Sunday.

The service was begun last year in an effort to provide transportation for those individuals weary of fighting traffic and the long weary drive to and from Boyne Country. Everett Kircher, impresario of Boyne Country, feels that last year's service was very successful and is one answer to the parents of school age children who are hesitant about letting the youth drive the family car in questionable weather.

ARTS AND CRAFTS — Westland shoppers will find themselves in this scene Jan. 4 through 16 as the Betty Baldwin Arts and Crafts Show returns to Westland Shopping Center. In addition to creations by local artists, a great variety of art-work and crafts will be shown.

Arts, crafts show returns

Westland shoppers will again have the opportunity to visit the Betty Baldwin Arts and Crafts Show Jan. 4 through 16. Hundreds of art objects and handcrafted items will be on display for shoppers to enjoy and purchase - including original paintings in oil, acrylics or watercolor. Also on exhibit will be metalcraft, shellcraft, mineral objects, Indian craft, glass blowing, pottery making, lapidary work, leather craft, candle making and floral arrangements. Several local artists will be exhibiting their works at the show. Two of them are Walter and Janet Heintz, who live at 29067 Brody, Westland. Janet is the daughter of sculptor John W. Olsson. She graduated from Famous Artists School and became known in the east for her fine portraits and still life paintings. She enjoys teaching advanced oil painting techniques and is probably best known for her sensitive portrayal of landscapes which she skillfully arranges and modulates between soft background depth and stimulating foreground activity. She has won various awards and is active in several art clubs in the Detroit area. Walter was born in Europe. His mother was an art teacher known for her portrayal of life in Central Europe. Walter studied art in Europe and New York. At first he painted portraits and landscapes, but with the advent of acrylics his interest turned to contemporary and non-objective creations. He has received several first place awards in local competition. Florence Stinson, who lives at 2055 Lathers, Garden City, will be doing portraits at the show. Several other portraitists will be found throughout the mall, including June Reed, Herb Tryon and Norman Nichols. Gary Papierski, who lives at 34581 Spring Valley Dr., Westland, is another artist who will be on hand. A native Detroit, he graduated from Chadsey High School and has attended the Society of Arts and Crafts and Henry Ford Community College. Most of his training has come from his experience working as a draftsman and he had dealt in all fields of display. He is currently employed by the J. L. Hudson Co.

South Dakota won't see 'Where's Poppa'

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Movie Critic

An article recently noted that a South Dakota town, which once had four movie theaters, now has none. One resident explained that nobody went to the movies any more because there "weren't any good movies any more." "Where's Poppa?" frequently erratic and infrequently brilliant study of senile geriatrics, could serve as Exhibit A, in that South Dakotan's explanation. Certainly there is a market for it in large urban areas but it, and the flood of modern pic-

La Streisand can't act

'Owl, Pussycat' good anyway

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Movie Critic

If there is a more inventive comedy writer around today than Neil Simon, it's probably Buck Henry. But where Simon manages to extract the last drop of wit from ordinary situations, Henry's humor goes the extra bit and seeks out the humor in madness. Bill Manhoff's pleasant but ordinary play, "The Owl and the Pussycat," done originally as a farcical story—although race was never really a factor in the play and has been dropped in the screen version—has been redone for the screen by Henry, last credited with the film version of "Catch 22." Henry has added a small touch of genius.

It's such a good movie, actually, that it becomes almost embarrassing to confirm a suspicion which has been growing for some time. Barbra Streisand really can't act at all. This may be an audacious statement, considering that Miss Streisand won an Oscar her first time on the screen, but "Funny Girl" was really a unique role. It allowed Miss Streisand to sing a lot and what Barbra can do to a song is so good it ought to be illegal. But further, it allowed her to play herself and, as it turns out, that didn't call for much acting at all.

Since "Hello, Dolly" it's been all downhill and now in "Pussycat," her first non-singing role, she must make it strictly on her acting ability, and worse, make it against a sensitive talented actor like George Segal.

Poor girl. The result, as you might suspect, is unfortunate. Try as she can, Miss Streisand can't get the East River out of her voice and heavy emotion merely increases the inflection. The rest is mostly surface mannerisms.

So much for the bad news. Despite it all, "Owl and the Pussycat" is still one of the season's happier events, due mostly to Segal and Henry. "Owl" concerns a would-be writer who tips off the caretaker of his apartment that a prostitute is operating across the way and the girl, enraged when she is thrown out, barges in on the writer to begin a most turbulent relationship.

She is unlettered, like Eliza Dolittle or Billie Dawn, but willing to learn. Segal is shy, unable to handle such an overwhelming creature. They are both hiding reality, he beneath the illusion that he is a writer and not the bookstore clerk he really is, she that she is an actress and model and not a hustler.

This is Manhoff's ordinary play, which Henry has honed and sharpened to such a fine edge. One example of his remarkable touch will suffice, but there are many others. The girl cannot fall asleep without television, but her set got broken when she was evicted.

Segal, desperate to get to sleep and seeking to pacify her, moves a lit fish tank in front of her and from behind it offers his own version of late night broadcasting.

If Henry has a flaw, it is his occasional lack of self-control. He gets carried away as when Miss Streisand describes her tures like it, are what turn them off in South Dakota. There is a dim suspicion lurking somewhere that Reiner could have produced an equally relevant and equally funny film that would pack them in in South Dakota—an old fashioned film in short—but to do so would be to admit that he isn't with it and that may be the cardinal sin today.

But, since this review will probably never reach South Dakota and since there is a market for "Where's Poppa" in these parts, let's take a look at it.

George Segal again shows he can't cope with the world and should move somewhere else in the sort of film that he—along with Elliott Gould—seems to have cornered the market on the past year.

This time he appears as a lawyer whose practice and personal life are suffering badly because he must care for his aging and senile mother, efficiently played by Ruth Gordon, who avoids the pitfalls of such a role by not burlapquing it.

Gould would like to put his mother in a home, but he promised his father on poppa's deathbed that he wouldn't and his henpecked married brother, hysterically played by Ron Leibman in the film's best performance, keeps reminding him of his pledge every time he appears to falter.

The picture takes wild shots at several subjects, ranging from the courts to military viciousness to crime in New York, the latter represented by some jivey muggers who rob Leibman every time he hurries through Central Park in response to a phone call from his brother that he is about to throw Momma out the window. Leibman is alternately nudged and forced to join in the rape, of what turns out to be a policeman in drag.

But the central theme is basically the mother-son relationship in all its unhealthy glory. Momma keeps threatening nurses, asking about her dead husband and agitating her son in sundry fashion, while his responses range from nailing her door shut to fantasizing that she is eaten by a dog.

There's an important message somewhere in "Where's Poppa?" and a lot of fun too—crying to get out of a morass of unhealthy and uneven situations. Reiner, unfortunately, does not provide the key.

FORFEITURE OF LAND CONTRACT NOTICE

To Joseph John Levinski and Kathryn E. Levinski, 9225 Rawsonville Road, Belleville, Mo. 48111

You Joseph John Levinski and Kathryn E. Levinski are hereby notified that a certain land contract bearing date of twenty fourth day of April A.D. 1967, by and between Chauncy D. Schweigert and Leota B. Schweigert of the first part, and Joseph John Levinski and Kathryn E. (Levinski) of the second part is in default by reason of the non payment of the installments of the principal and interest due thereunder, and you Joseph John Levinski and Kathryn E. Levinski are hereby further notified to yield, surrender and deliver up possession of said premises in said land contract mentioned and of which you are now in possession under and by virtue of the terms thereof.

Said premises are described in said land contract as follows, viz: All that certain piece or parcel of land being situated in the Township of Ypsilanti, Washtenaw County, Michigan and more particularly known and described as Lot 210 Greening, Little Orchard, a subdivision of east half of northeast fractional quarter of Section 2, town 3 south, range 7 east, Ypsilanti Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan, according to the plat thereof as recorded in liber 5 of Plats, Page 27, Washtenaw County Records.

Classes beginning at hearing, speech center

Mid-winter classes in sign language and lipreading and auditory training program, the week of Jan. 11, at the Detroit Hearing and Speech Center.

Designated to improve the communication skills for adults with impaired hearing, the day and evening classes will be held at the Center, 19185 Wyoming (one block north of Seven Mile.)

"We don't want people to think that the Detroit Hearing and Speech Center serves only Detroit residents," states executive director, Raymond Lindahl.

"We are a Torch Drive agency and we aim to help people with hearing and speech losses in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties." In the lipreading and auditory training program, basic intermediate and advanced instruction will be offered for a twelve week period.

The beginning and advanced sign language courses are primarily for vocational rehabilitation workers and others having contact with the non-verbal deaf.

Interested applicants can obtain registration details by calling the Center, 341-1353.

Snowmobile events top tourist calendar

Snow season visitors to Michigan in January will find numerous action-packed snowmobile events and winter carnivals and festivals awaiting them, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Michigan's winter community events are packed with interest for spectators and participants alike. Heading the calendar is the annual New Year's Weekend Snowmobile Rally in Grayling, Jan. 1 to 3. There will be safaris, cross country races and oval track races for all classes of machines - something for everyone.

The following week, what is described as one of the richest snowmobile events ever staged will take place in Northville, Jan. 8 to 10.

The International Motor State Classic, originally scheduled for the Detroit Race Course, will be held at Northville Downs. Four separate racing programs will be open to the public, with drivers competing for $50,000 in total prize money.

Carnivals and festivals are among the many other popular snow season activities on the January docket. Tip-Up-Town U.S.A., Jan. 16 to 17 at Houghton Lake, is a fun-filled tribute to ice fishing and offers contests with prizes. Mason County's Winter Fun '71 Festival, Jan. 16 to 31, boasts a variety of events from an outdoor chicken barbecue to a countywide ice fishing contest.

Janice Tedders married

Former Romulus girl is the new Mrs. Lacey

The New Hope Baptist Church, Westland, was reserved for the December ceremony which united Janice Ellen Tedders and Richard C. Lacey in holy matrimony.

The Rev. Jack Spitz presided at the double ring rite with Mrs. William Potton as organist and Gail McFarland and Sandra Hollis as soloists.

Former Romulus residents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayborn Tedders of Palmer Road, Westland, are parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams of Christine Street, Westland, are the bridegroom's parents.

FOR THE candlelight nuptials, Janice selected a modified Victorian gown fashioned in satin with a high waistline, ring collar and sheer bishop sleeves. A satin band centered with a satin bow traced the empire waist with narrow rows of lace forming a paneled effect from the collar to the hem of the A-line skirt.

MISS METCALF

Rib roast pointers for the cook

The rib-roast-alias prime rib or standing rib-is one of the most popular, but misunderstood of the glamorous meat cuts, says Maryann Meldrum, Kalamazoo-based marketing information agent.

This holiday favorite comes from the center section of the beef animal, between the loin (steak) section and the shoulder (chuck) section, Miss Meldrum explains.

Some markets advertise rib roasts "first three ribs." Others tout 4th, 5th and 6th, while others simply have rib roasts. Ask the meat man from which direction he counts the ribs, Miss Meldrum advises.

Some markets count from the back, others count from the front. Generally speaking the first three ribs are the best cuts (those closest to the steak section), Miss Meldrum says.

Many markets advertise a seven-inch rib roast. Others offer a 10-inch roast. The 10-inch roast means that the less tender and less expensive short ribs are left attached, Miss Meldrum says. On a seven-inch roast these are removed so you get more "good" meat in proportion to bone and waste but a higher price per pound.

The best value is really the seven-inch roast even though price per pound is higher.

Her bouffant illusion veil was caught to a petaled headdress and she carried cascading white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Greg Smigiel served as honor attendant in an empire gown of sun gold satin and Dior bow headpiece. Her nosegay bouquet was comprised of daisies, mums and gold carnations.

Deniece McLeod donned an identical ensemble for her role as bridesmaid.

BEST MAN was Ronald W. Horvath with Greg Smigiel and Ernest Gowen, cousin of the bride, as ushers.

Mrs. Tedders chose for her daughter's wedding a frock of deep yellow brocade with matching accessories while Mrs. Williams, mother of the bridegroom, donned a beige and brown ensemble.

Guests gathered in the church social hall for the reception which followed. Decorations carried out the gold and white color scheme of the wedding. Mrs. Larry Bowen of Albuquerque, New Mexico, sister of the bride, assisted.

THE LACEYS spent four days at Niagara Falls and are planning a trip to Florida over the holidays. They are currently making their home on Stieber Street, Westland.

The new Mrs. Lacey graduated from John Glenn High School in 1969 and attended Eastern Michigan University. She is currently employed at The Daily Eagle, Wayne. Her husband, also a 1969 John Glenn graduate, attended Wayne County Community College and is now with the Fisher Body Division of General Motors at Willow Run.

OES to hold special meet

Belleville Chapter No. 73, O.E.S., will hold a special meeting on Wednesday evening, January 6, beginning with a pot-luck dinner at 6:30 p.m. A school of instruction will be given by Grand Ruth.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD C. LACEY

Laundry lesson for college set

You've lived with him for 18 years - washing, ironing, waging war on grease and grass stains. And now that he's back from a few months away at school, it's time for a laundry lesson at the coin-op.

Show him how easy it is to take care of his own clothes and save money too, says Bernetta Hahabka, clothing specialist from the Cooperative Extension Service at Michigan State University.

She says the biggest part of the lesson should deal with durable press fabrics. They now comprise nearly 90 percent of the wardrobe of young people.

Most college dorms, says Miss Kahabka, supply coin-operated machines. In the first lesson tell him how to load the machine and the kind and amount of detergent to use. Next, point out the durable press setting available on most modern washers and dryers. Proper drying is very important in handling durable press fabrics. Improper drying can bake in unwanted wrinkles which means more ironing. If the machine doesn't have the special setting, use low temperatures until the clothes are almost dry, and then hang them immediately.

The average student can manage his week's washing and drying in about an hour for about 75 cents.

Miss Kahabka points out that modern coin-operated dry cleaners also have special cycles to care for durable press garments. College dorms tend to be rather spartan accommodations, says Miss Kahabka. Durable press draperies and small washable rugs will brighten a room and are easily cleaned in a coin-operated laundry.

Since returning from a ski trip to Lake Tahoe, California, the newlyweds have made their home at 1055 Oakwood Avenue, Vallejo.

The new Mrs. Shoemaker graduated from Wausau East High School in 1965 and from St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minnesota in 1969. She is presently teaching in the Vallejo Unified School District. Her husband, a graduate of the U. S. Navy Academy at Annapolis in 1964, is currently serving aboard the submarine USS Hawkbill based at Mare Island, California.

The bridegroom's parents, the senior Charles Shoemakers, hosted the rehearsal dinner which was held at the Hotel Wausau.

The Rev. Donald K. Dinsmore presided at the two o'clock ceremony which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Bangle of 715 Moreland Avenue, Schofield, Wisconsin, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Shoemaker of 13975 Sheldon Road, Belleville.

Mrs. Reuben Johnson was at the organ to accompany soloist, Mrs. Donald Moseman.

Wearing a Gown which she had designed and made the bride appeared in white brocade, styled with an empire waistline. The bodice featured long, full sleeves and a self belt and was frosted with seed pearling. A chapel train of matching brocade added back interest to the formal gown.

Her illusion veil, cut in mid-back length, was held by a floral cluster arrangement. Her cascade bouquet was comprised of white roses and stephanotis accented with tendrils of ivy.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Barbara Bangle of Schofield, Wisconsin and bridesmaid was Mary Feroe of New Brighton, Minnesota.

Dressed identically, they wore frocks designed along the same lines as the bridal gown in moss green brocade. Their bouquets were colonial arrangements of red carnations and holly.

Travelling from Garden City, Michigan, Gilbert Burm carried out the duties of best man. Belleville Glen Curtis, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; and Christopher Bangle, of Schofield, brother of the bride, were ushers.

The reception in the church parlor was followed with a buffet dinner at the home of the bride's parents.

MRS. CHARLES L. SHOEMAKER

A lovelier you

Keeping your wig warmed

By MARY SUE MILLER

No Lovely questions the flattery and luxury of a fur hat. This season furry toppers add another dimension — a new case atop a wig.

Whether the real thing or one of the fabulous fakes, a furry topper tops a winter wardrobe. Choice ranges the animal kingdom, except for the spotted and striped game cats. We are just not to use any more of those beauties for adornment, lest they disappear. Right? Right!

With minks, sables, ermines, and chinchillas at hand who can feel deprived? Whats more, there are cleverly pieced minks in brown, black and white mixtures that simulate the leopard family. Then there skins that only 20-20 vision detects. It is the shape that spells distinction. Try the landowner bit — the swirling yards of fur that almost bury your head. Or a big, pillowy beret. Or sans wig, how about a small head-hugger?

Or maybe you would prefer a high crown, big-brim slouch hat. All are great. All complement the new proportions in clothes. The shape that enhances the loveliest you has your name on it.

This is the season, if ever there is one, to project loveliness. What would you say to a cushion beret of white mink — and a black velvet dress — to express your sentiments?

Belleville Brevities

Christmas time in Belleville is a time for togetherness

By Mrs. Joseph Spring OX 9-4021

Mrs. Fay Domenget, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rundblom of Des Plaines, Illinois, arrived last Thursday to spend Christmas with the former's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Maki, and their family of Quirk Rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Gillman Mulreed of Madelon St., were Christmas eve guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Figg, and their family at Mt. Pleasant. Mrs. Roger Arnett of Riggs Rd. had the misfortune to fall in their home one day last week and received a fractured left arm.

Otto Lindemann of Buffalo, N.Y., was an over night guest on Tuesday of last week of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith of W. Columbia Ave. Mr. Lindemann is the son-in-law of the Henry Deerings.

After spending several days of last week at St. Joseph Hospital Ann Arbor, Mrs. Leon Boldt of Roland St. was able to return home on Saturday, December 19.

Masonic services were held at the Uhl Memorial Home in Westland on Tuesday evening, December 23, for Mr. Roy Sugars of Wayne who passed away on Sunday, the 20th.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tucholski of Edison St. spent Saturday of last week with the former's Mother, Mrs. William Tucholski, of Standish.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Statham of Oshawa, Ontario, moved on Wednesday, December 23, to an apartment in Milford.

On Sunday, Dec. 20, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lester enjoyed a pre-Christmas dinner with the latter's sister and husband, Mrs. and Mrs. A.L. Spencer, at Pontiac.

On Christmas Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deering entertained members of their family, the Richard Smiths and the Alex Stanis, at breakfast. Later the Deerings spent the day with another daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Dann, and their family at Saline.

On Sunday, Dec. 27, members of the Harold Johnson family gathered at the Harmony Lane home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Orr for their annual Christmas get-together.

Members, to the number of 50, came from Oscoda, Vassar, Saginaw, Flint, Millington, Mansfield, Ohio, and as far away as Wichita Falls, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mericle of Denton Rd., Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Statham of Milford were Christmas Day guests of Mrs. Mericle's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Berkey, of Curtice, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. B.P. Hopson of Belleville Rd. were holiday guests of their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Hopson, and family of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lester were Christmas eve guests of the former's brother and wife, the Verne Lesters of Northville. On Christmas Day the Lewis Lesters were guests of Plymouth friends, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Dapkus.

On Sunday, Dec. 27, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith entertained in the afternoon in celebration of the first birthday of their little daughter, Sarah Marie. Present were the little one's Maternal and paternal grand parents and an honorary great-grand parent, Mrs. Ethel Pitcher.

Mrs. Joseph Spring of Liberty St. spent the holiday with the Herbert Spring family in Plymouth.

MISS LEMANSKI

Couple to marry in August

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lemanski of 20897 Vining Road, New Boston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Christine, to Steven Jones.

The bride-elect, who is planning an August wedding, is a 1970 graduate of Huron High School. She is presently attending the State College of Beauty in Wyandotte.

Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Jones of 24470 Palmetto Drive, Flat Rock, graduated in 1969 from Flat Rock High School and is currently an employee of Adolph's Service.

How To Send In Wedding Or Engagement News

For newly-engaged couples and for prospective brides we have printed forms to fill out to announce your betrothal and to enable us to write your wedding story completely and correctly.

If you have any doubt as to what information we require to do a story, these forms list all the pertinent questions.

To obtain either an engagement or bridal questionnaire, simply stop by our office, 330 Main street, Belleville, or request one via telephone, OX 7-9191. We'll be happy to mail either form.

We ask that you also bring or send in pictures to accompany either story.

There is no charge for this service.

In order to give your news items the best coverage possible, we ask that you follow a few simple rules when sending in articles.

TYPE out your news when and if possible. ALWAYS, but ALWAYS, double space and use only one side of the paper. Leave several inches at the tops of the paper and margins at both sides. (That gives us space for instructions to the printers, corrections, etc.)

PRINT, please print, if no typewriter is available. A's, e's, o's, and i's are rough to decipher in writing as are r's from n's and p's from f's.

DO get your story in by deadline time, please. We have a new time for all society items, please note. All weddings, engagements, birth announcements, club news, and columns must be into our office by 2 p.m. Thursday.

DO bring in pictures. If we CAN'T use them, we'll be polite in refusing (lack of space, suitability, picture quality, being our basis for refusal.)

GIVE us a few tips! Being an editorial staff of two, we can't possibly cover all four townships, umpteen schools, all cities, meetings, etc. Your help in letting us in on events of importance can make your local paper just THAT much more interesting!

CUSTOM CHANGED

DR. AND MRS. John Kadley of Dearborn broke with tradition this year (they usually entertain at home) as they invited their two daughters and their families — Jan and Ron Sierota of Quirk Road and Barb and John Hand of Dearborn — to dine with them at the Dearborn Inn. Also included in their plans were Mrs. Kadley's father, Lucius, and her sister, Mrs. Dana Miller, both of Dearborn.

Causing heads to turn as they entered with their young cousins, Johnnie and Tommie Hand (handsome in red velvet blazers) were the three Sierota girls, Val, Karen and Terri, who were equally attractive in their matching pink and white lace pant dresses.

The Kadley's invitation concluded with gourmet tidbits an evening brunch and gift exchange back at their home.

AWAY FOR THE DAY

MOTORING OUT of town for the holiday, the Donovan Partridges and daughter, Barb, joined Lillian's sister and brother-in-law, the Harold J. Williamses, of Ypsilanti, for dinner. Roger and Cheryl Bernhardt and children (who'd spent Christmas Eve with the Partridges) were also guests at the family get-together. ... THE BILL HUDGE family, the Bert Smiths and the A. R. Lieblers were invited to join Ed and Mary Anne Hudge of Ann Arbor for Christmas dinner. The following day Bill and Flo had as their dinner guests her mother and dad the Walter Hesses from Brighton. The Hudge trio — Mike, Judy and Cindy — then accompanied their grandparents to Traverse City for a week of snowmobiling, hunting and other snow activities. ... DRIVING TO Cleveland Airport the Monday before the holiday, John and Marge Roberts of Lake Pointe Pass winged their way to North Carolina to spend Christmas with their daughter and son-in-law, Vicki and Mike Barnett, at Havelock where he's serving with the U. S. Marines. They also got to help celebrate the second birthday of their little granddaughter, Tytti Liisa, before returning to Ohio and a few days with John's family in Cleveland.

TRADITIONAL DINNER

THE JOHN BOKONS of Willis Road had their family in Christmas Day for their traditional family dinner and tree festivities. Arriving from Garden City were Mary Bokon and Joe and Jan Ross with Julie and Joey, and from Belleville Mrs. William Sietz and Jim and Barb Lewis and their youngsters, Jimmy, Kimberly and Bobbie.

Guests throughout the day included the Harry Melidesian family, the Jim Hudge, Bill Hudge and Tom Hudge families and Scott Sobry.

FAMILIES TOGETHER

MAYOR AND MRS. Royce Smith had Christmas Eve at their home on Columbia Avenue with supper and a gift exchange highlighting the evening. Mrs. Ethel Pitcher and the Richard Smiths and little daughter, Sarah, were guests.

CHRISTMAS EVE guests of Roger and Aileen Allyn of Belleville Road were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dietz and sons, Eddie and Paul, of Livonia. Christmas Day the group traveled to Clinton for dinner with Aileen's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hollander.

BRINKERHOFFS ENTERTAIN

THE BRINKERHOFFS — Keith and Connie — played host at a five o'clock dinner Christmas Day at their home on Riggs Road. Both sides of the family took part in the get-together which included exchanging gifts.

Guests were their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Scoles and daughter, Debbie, from Sagnia, and the James Brinkerhoffs and son, Gene, from Jackson. Also included were Connie's sister and husband, Sharie and Mike Vander Wall, and her brother and wife, Gary and Sue Scoles, all from Grand Rapids.

The Sunday before, the Brinkerhoffs had some 40 friends and neighbors from Belleville and Ypsilanti in for an open house. Beginning at seven, festivities included an hors d'oeuvres table and holiday camaraderie.

MARKING THE HOLIDAY

OUT EDISON Lake Road way, the G. W. Owens had their son, Kirk, home on leave from his naval duties in Hawaii. With them for dinner on the holiday were their daughter and son-in-law, Michele and Tom Everard of Ypsilanti, and Wes' mother, Mrs. Edward Owen of Wyandotte. ... THE GEORGE HEIFNERS with David, Debbie and Terry (also of Edison Lake) spent Christmas Eve with Maxine's parents, the Jack Turtles, in Lincoln Park. The Monday after the holiday Debbie left with her friend, Mary Zimmerman, for Pine Hills Winter Camp near Brighton for two days of winter fun. ... A BRUNCH on Christmas Eve found the family together at the home of Mrs. Esther Deering on W. Columbia Avenue. Marvin and Marian Dann and their children, Laura, Jerry and Karen, drove in from Saline with Bellevillites Dick and Phyllis Smith and daughter, Sarah, and Alex and Verna Stanis completing the picture.

MORE FAMILY GATHERINGS

THE CLAN MC NALLY gathered this year at Ray and Lee Van Buhler's home on Venetian Street with a six o'clock buffet highlighting the proceedings. Having drawn names, the group also exchanged gifts around the tree. Mrs. Viola

SEE 'TINK' IN

MINNESOTA

WITH BELLEVILLE'S 'boy' Frank Nunley slated to play in Sunday's big game between the San Francisco 49-ers and the Minnesota Vikings, his parents headed northward to Minnesota the day after Christmas. Departing at 1 a.m., the senior Frank Nunley of Ayres Street were accompanied by Mrs. Billie Nunley also of Ayres.

More familiarly known in Belleville as 'Tink', the B.H.S. grad is center linebacker for his team and is also captain of the defensive squad. An alumnus of the University of Michigan, Tink formerly taught at South Junior High and also at West Willow Elementary.

MRS. MICHAEL R. SWOPE

Stretch your food dollars

To save food dollars, check for "specials" - then make your shopping list.

The list keeps you from forgetting needed items, says Mrs. Anita Dean, food specialist with Michigan State University's Cooperative Extension Service. It also helps you avoid "impulse" buys which usually increase your food bill without adding much food value. A list also saves time.

Choose meats carefully the specialist urges. Lower priced cuts may have more fat and bone resulting in fewer servings. More expensive boneless cuts may actually cost less per serving than cuts with bones.

Chicken is one of the best buys and makes a variety of tasty meals. Whole chickens are less expensive than cut up ones, so you can save money by learning to cut the chicken yourself, or even easier - roast them whole and carve them at the table.

Be a comparison shopper Mrs. Dean urges. Use the cost per serving as your buying guide. Divide the price of the item by the number of servings you think it will give. Be wary of large size packages. They may weigh less than smaller ones and give fewer servings.

"Remember that nothing is a bargain unless your family likes it," Mrs. Dean said. "If no one eats it, it wasn't a real bargain after all."

New residents of Belleville are the newly wed Michael R. Swope who were united in marriage November 28 at Good Hope Lutheran Church, Garden City.

Diane C. Denyes became Mrs. Swope in a candlelight ceremony at six o'clock performed by the Rev. Dean Beckwith. The double ring rite united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Denyes of 30458 Sheridan, Garden City, and the son of Richard Swope of Novi and Mrs. Ilean Swope of Garden City.

Soloist for the ceremony, H. Craig Leslie, sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by the organ by Mrs. C. Emberton.

FOR HER WEDDING, the bride donned an empire gown of white peau satin enhanced with re-embroidered Alencon lace at the high, notched neckline, on the bishop sleeves and again on the train.

Pearls accented the Camelot cap which held the bride's elbow-length veil of illusion. Cascading white Eucharist lilies and stephanotis completed her ensemble.

Shirley Denyes attended her sister as honor maid in a gown of scarlet velvet fashioned in the empire mode with princess sleeves and ruffles at the neckline.

She carried a white fur muff centered with a miniature cascade of scarlet roses tied with white velvet streamers. Bridesmaids, in identical frocks, were Christine Houff, Pamela Swope, and Sandra Swope, sisters of the bridegroom, all of Garden City. All four wore scarlet velvet Camelot hats with their gowns.

Their white muffs were accented with scarlet and white roses with streamers in scarlet velvet. Junior attendants were Beverly Denyes, sister of the bride, and Carolyn Peterson of Garden City. Their headgear consisted of scarlet satin bows.

THE BRIDEGROOM chose David Sando of Garden City to be best man. Groomsmen included Dennis Heinanen, Bruce Cooperider, Terry Ransier, Robert Denyes, brother of the bride, and Gary and Harry Swope, brothers of the bridegroom. Mrs. Denyes chose for her daughter's wedding a pearl-trimmed coat-dress ensemble of pink silk shantung with accessories in pink and white. A blue double knit costume with silver beading was worn by Mrs. Swope for her son's wedding. Both mothers added cymbidium orchids to their dresses.

Some 275 guests gathered at the Wayne-Ford Civic League Hall for the reception which followed. Among those attending were Mrs. Loyd Prey of Dubuque, Iowa, grandmother of the bride; and Mr. and Mrs. George Ulich of Gladwin, grandparents of the bridegroom. Other relatives from out-of-state were the James Kaufman family of Dubuque, Iowa; Mrs. H. Mueller of Everett and the junior H. Muellers, all of Everett, Pennsylvania; and also the H. Shiffer family of Gladwin.

The young couple graduated in 1969 from Garden City West High School. The bride is employed at Liola's Hair Fashions, Garden City, and her husband works for Pennsylvania Central Railroad and also at Stu Evans Lincoln

Wed in Garden City

Newly wed Swopes are new residents

Mercury dealership, Garden City.

The newlyweds are now at home at 6 Maple Drive, Belleville, since their return from a week-long honeymoon at Niagara Falls.

Scott Richard has arrived

There's a new arrival at the home of Dick and Pat Burnette of 1393 Russell Street, Ypsilanti.

The new heir, born November 18 at University of Michigan Women's Hospital, Ann Arbor, weighed in at 7 lbs. 7 oz., and was titled Scott Richard.

The baby's mother is the former Pat Wilson, a 1967 graduate of Belleville High School. The new father, also a BHS alumnus, graduated in 1966.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Burnette of Ypsilanti and Mrs. Ruth Wilson of Belleville.

"The Christmas Story"

"The Christmas Story" was presented in Scripture and song at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville

The entire Sunday School from the baby in the manger, Marc Liskey, two months old, participated in the presentation. The angel choir was composed of Cherub and Junior Choirs combined.

The Junior High Choir also sang with Miss Deborah Ford accompanying at the piano and Mrs. Frank Ashe at the organ.

The living creche was composed of members of all classes from nursery to high school.

MISS BASNAW

February nuptials planned

The Grace Baptist Church, Belleville, is being reserved for the February 27 wedding of Janet J. Basnaw and Brian K. Boone. Their engagement and nuptial date are announced by Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Basnaw of 40219 Alden Drive, Belleville, parents of the bride-elect.

A 1969 graduate of Belleville High School, Miss Basnaw is employed as a secretary at U.S. Steel, Southfield.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Austin L. Boone of 43011 Riggs Road, Belleville, and the late Mrs. Boone.

He, too, is a 1969 graduate of Belleville High School currently employed by the Ford Motor Company at Rawsonville.

Hot holiday sandwiches

You can produce a delicious sandwich snack in minutes for a hungry family or drop-in guests. Simply cook pork sausage links and arrange on slices of toasted white bread that have been spread with jellied cranberry sauce. Sprinkle with grated cheese over the top and slide under the broiler, about 3 inches from the heat, until the cheese melts.

Am asked to name the country's five alltime best-selling novels. Can only name four. "Peyton Place," "Gone With the Wind," "Forever Amber" and "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Will check further...as for that feminine device known as the false, those who states wherein the ladies buy the fewest of same are Alabama and Georgia. Or so says one more undergarment maker. . . The weather station at the University of Connecticut includes in its daily forecast a moonlight prediction for the benefit of young lovers. The Garden of Nepal is a fairly well-known spot in the town now called Istanbul. It was, according to one historical report at hand, the sultan's seraglio. Had to look that up. Seraglio means harem. Anyhow, frequent parties were tossed in the seraglio, so the record shows. And also a matter of record is these parties for centuries were illuminated by nothing more than candles attached to the backs of ambulating tortoises. Quite a picture, that.

To the list of citizens born in odd places, add a Mount Vernon, Wash., subscriber who says he arrived in an open woodshed during a blizzard. Top that. . . Now please, consider Cold-Nose Charley, a registered dachshund owned by Kathi Rickner of Yale, Okla. He weighs 60 pounds. If Cold-Nose Charley doesn't hold the heavyweight record among dachshunds, who does?

He was an available bachelor. Mighty available. So when he came back to his hometown after a long absence, his sister telephoned four of her girlfriends to set him up. The first, a bookkeeper, promptly asked, "How much money does he make?" The second, a secretary, asked, "Is he an executive?" The third, a schoolteacher, asked, "What did he major in?" And the fourth, a waitress, asked "Where is he?" Our Love and War man says this gives you some idea of how bookkeepers, secretaries, schoolteachers and waitresses react to news about available bachelors.

Customer service — Q. "Say, old boy, did you ever find out why the groom always set and the bride always stood up in those old wedding photos?" A. Look I don't want to talk about that anymore. I want to talk about how much fat there is in an ordinary hotdog. About 34 per cent. . . Q. "Is it true no Mason was ever hanged?" A. Can't be. What about old John Brown? He was a Mason. Lodge No. 68 in Hudson, Ohio.

Rapid Reply — No, sir, a longtime warden told me once the most troublesome convicts in any fair-sized prison are the men sentenced for morals offenses. Least troublesome, he said, are the murderers.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S horoscope

from the Carroll Righter Institute

During the daytime some very unusual circumstances arise and you find out just how an insecure person regards you. Efforts on your part to improve relations seem futile. The evening brings tensions and strains as most everyone seems to be in an argumentative mood. Keep your proper perspective and avoid doing anything rash and unwise.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You can easily have a good time with persons you like, kin, relatives, but be sure to keep out of arguments, particularly during the evening. Come to fine new agreements. Show that you have poise.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Doing your work in such an efficient manner that you make an excellent impression on bigwigs brings their respect at this time. Do not irk an associate. Take it easy tonight. Be wise.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) The day can run along very smoothly but avoid a co-worker who can be troublesome. Put that creative talent to work in the morning. Doing something to improve your health tonight is good.

Moon children (June 22 to July 21) Working out a long-standing problem wisely is possible during the day. The evening is for fun. Your hunches are accurate during the day, but not tonight. Use good judgment.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) Discuss with associates how to make better arrangements for the future so that there can be greater success. Avoid an argument with family tie tonight. A daytime activity is not good to pursue at night. Do some good reading tonight.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Performing those necessary duties in the morning will prevent financial anxieties later on. Take it easy tonight. Show that you support co-workers and thereby get a great deal done together. Eliminate a bad habit you may have.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) This can be a particularly fine day if you associate with the right individuals instead of letting the wrong ones lead you around. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets. Do some reading tonight. Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Look into family affairs that is hard to understand and get at the source of the trouble at home. Say nothing about them and then quietly do what should be done. Avoid tensions. Show wisdom.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Look into matters that concern your friends that can deepen friendships. Do not talk overly critical of others. Don't allow yourself to run roughshod over others. Show that you are a winner.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You are able to please a higher-up by the manner in which you take care of monetary matters. Steer clear of pals who are too demanding. Avoiding the social is good tonight. Obtaining data you need is possible. Keep it confidential.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Many fine ideas are yours and you can gain the cooperation of new contacts. Safeguard your good reputation. There is a secret you must keep in the evening, without fail.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) There is a chance to gain the backing of experts and get conditions improved during day, but don't take any risks tonight. Make new plans for the New Year ahead. Going off on any tangents now is not good.

If your child is born today he or she will be one of those fascinating young people who will want to pursue an unusual profession in order to be really happy and successful. With the help of good and influential people, you should teach early to save money during the profitable years to prevent lack in the lean years, which is possible during middle age. Much originality in this chart, whether male or female. Ethical training early, also.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you.
